

HANGTIME

2007 PINOT NOIR
Carneros, Gallery Vineyard

127 Days Hangtime

HANGTIME wines demonstrate the superior quality of Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Syrah from cool-climate regions in which the grapes enjoy a long hangtime on the vine. By focusing in the winemaking process on the concentrated flavors cool-climate grapes develop, Hangtime winemaker Tony Coltrin crafts consistently delicious wines that eloquently express their appellation of origin and unique site terroir.

APPELLATION - The cool-climate Carneros district at the southern tip of Napa Valley is strongly influenced by breezes and fog from nearby San Pablo Bay. These conditions are ideal for Pinot Noir, which ripens slowly and steadily throughout the growing season, developing bright cherry and berry flavors balanced by fresh acidity and engaging spice tones.

GALLERY VINEYARD - Located at the base of Prayer Mountain on the property surrounding Folio Winemakers' Studio, the Gallery Vineyard is among the finest Pinot Noir vineyards in Carneros. Planted to a diverse array of top-quality Pinot Noir clones, it is cooled by morning fog and afternoon winds, ensuring our grapes enjoy a long, even growing season with plenty of hangtime on the vine.

WINE DETAILS - A long growing season and harvest extended by cooling temperatures allowed the 2007 Gallery Vineyard Pinot Noir grapes to hang on the vine for a minimum of 127 days and develop intense varietal flavors. Berries were small, enhancing concentration and quality. After fermenting the juice in small stainless steel tanks with manual punchdowns, Hangtime winemaker Tony Coltrin aged the wine in 100% French oak barrels to add a clove-like spiciness to the luscious red-fruit flavors.
